AROUND TOWN

Remembrance Concert planned

The second annual Pearl Harbor Remembrance Concert is planned for 11 a.m. Sunday at Hawks Park in Edgewater. The concert is spearheaded by Mike Visconti, an Edgewater resident and WWII U.S. Air Force veteran, and supported by the City of Edgewater, AMVETS Post 2 of Edgewater, VFW Post 4250 of New Smyrna Beach and American Legion Post 17 of New Smyrna Beach. Music coordinator is Dick Cuchetti with several solos and local chorals groups. During the concert and ceremony, all veterans who have served during war or peace will be recognized.

Magic of Christmas concert

The Song of the Coast Sweet Adeline Chorus will present the Magic of Christmas concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Tomoka United Methodist Church, 1000 Old Tomoka Road, Ormond Beach. The concert will feature the Indian River Fruit Pickers male quartet as well as dancers and singers. A suggested donation of $10 will be received at the door or tickets may be purchased from any chorus member. For information, visit songofthecoast.org or call 386-252-0300.

Community Choir to sing at NSB library

The Southeast Volusia Community Choir will present a Christmas concert at 5:30 p.m. Monday at the New Smyrna Beach Regional Library, 1001 S. Dixie Freeway, New Smyrna Beach. The program will feature traditional, spiritual and fun arrangements done in four-part harmony. Reservations are not required. For information, call 424-2910, option 4.

Lions host holiday party

The Ormond-by-the-Sea Lions will host a community holiday party 6-10 p.m.

LANE CLOSURES FPL moving lines to prep for widening

Florida Power & Light will need to relocate power lines in preparation for the upcoming expansion of Williamson Boulevard in Port Orange.

Starting Sunday, lane closures and detours will be in effect for S. Williamson Boulevard and Airport Road. The work is expected to continue through Feb. 7

Monday at Alfie's Restaurant, 1666 Ocean Shore Blvd., Ormond Beach. A prime rib buffet is $20 per person. Entertainment included. Reservations required. For information, call 386-441-4421.

Kids holiday art class

The Ormond Memorial Art Museum will hold a kids' holiday art class 4-5:30 p.m. Monday at 78 E. Granada Blvd., Ormond Beach. Learn how to fold foil stars, angels, and wreaths with Origami techniques, and create your own holiday decorations with colorful and sparkling papers. Students will leave with a variety of folded paper sculptures and maybe a new, creative hobby. All supplies provided. Open to students age 6-12. Cost is $22 for members and $25 for non-members. For information, call 386-676-3347.

Port Orange library shows free movies

Catch a free movie at the Port Orange Regional Library, which will show four recent releases in December. Upcoming movies include: "The Alps from Above," 2 p.m. Sunday. "Where Hope Grows," 2 p.m. Monday. "Ricki and the Flash," 2 p.m. Dec. 14. "Cinderella," 2 p.m. Dec. 21. "Mission Impossible - Rogue Nation," 2 p.m. Dec. 28. For more information call the library at 386-322-5152, option 4.

Holiday Teas at Lilian Place

Lilian Place will host Holiday Teas on Tuesday and Dec. 15, starting at 2 p.m. at its Heritage Center, 111 Silver Beach Ave., Daytona Beach. Costumed re-enactors will serve the tea, which includes an assortment of special holiday treats. A complimentary tour of Lilian Place Museum will follow. The cost of the Holiday Tea is $20 plus sales tax. RSVP required. 386-256-4810.

during the hours of 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The project is part of the $15.8 million extension of William Boulevard to Pioneer Trail, connecting one of the city's major hubs to New Smyrna Beach. Officials believe the extension will alleviate congestion at the Dunlawton Avenue/ Interstate 95 interchange in Port Orange.

'Rediscover US-1' fundraiser benefits FBH

Local restaurants donate to FBH during Restaurant Month

DAYTONA BEACH – Throughout the month of November, local restaurants from Oak Hill to Ormond Beach donated a portion of sales to Food Brings Hope to raise awareness for the unique businesses and restaurants along the US-1 corridor.

Restaurant owners and city officials were welcomed to the Food Brings Hope office for a check presentation. Penny Cruz, Port Orange city planner, helped strengthen community support for the Rediscover US-1 campaign.

"This was the second event organized by the Rediscover US-1 planning committee," she said. "It was exciting to put this together in time for the holiday season. We knew it would be a nice opportunity to promote our local eateries and donate to a food-based charity. We are happy that the funds raised will be used to help eradicate hunger throughout Volusia County. It was nice to see all of our cities working together."

Participating cities included Ormond Beach, Holly Hill, Daytona Beach, South Daytona, Port Orange, New Smyrna Beach, Edgewater and Oak Hill.

"Food Brings Hope appreciates the community support given to us throughout this fundraising campaign. We are pleased to know businesses are also benefiting from our partnership with them," said Judi Winch, FBH executive director. "I had the opportunity to visit some of the participating restaurants and enjoy the wonderful food and was delighted with the level of service received at each." For information about Food Brings Hope, visit FoodBringsHope.org or contact Briana Thompson, program coordinator, at 386-843-1161 or Briana@FoodBringsHope.org.

Pilot Club donates $1,300 to HUM

Diane Lessard (left), president of the Daytona Beach Pilot Club, presents a check for $1,300 to Ginny Kent of Halifax Urban Ministries to help feed the needy for Thanksgiving. The Daytona Beach Pilot Club turned 75 years old this year and remains dedicated to helping many local charitable organizations in the area all year long.
